ABOUT TOMÁŠ

Tomáš Berdych, who turned pro in 2002 and reached a career-high ranking of No. 4 in 2015, had a successful tennis career. He won his first ATP Tour match at the US Open in 2003, his first ATP Title in Palermo, and an ATP Masters 1000 title in Paris a year later. In 2010, he reached his first Grand Slam final at Wimbledon and maintained a remarkable streak of 52 straight Grand Slam appearances and 64 straight ATP Masters 1000 tournaments. Berdych also contributed to the Czech Republic's back-to-back Davis Cup titles in 2012 and 2013.

Currently, Berdych is coaching Czech player Jiri Lehecka, who has made significant progress under his guidance. Lehecka reached the quarterfinals of the Australian Open and climbed to a top-36 world ranking.
